WEEKLY HOMILY / HOMILÍA SEMANALThird Sunday of Easter/Tercer Domingo de Pascua

Now that Easter Sunday is over, what are we to do? Do we turn away from the events of the crucifixion and resurrection, and like Peter in today's gospel announce that, well, we'll just go fishing? Back to the daily grind, the weekend thrill. After the sorrow and penance of Lent and the joy of Easter -- just go back to the ordinary. It is the Lord, because the story did not end at the Cross. It is the Lord there, alive and beckoning -- "Come and eat your meal," He says to us -- because Easter really did happen. And the world has never been the same since. He arose from the dead, and His followers who knew Him before and after these tremendous events of the Easter season spread throughout the empire and turned the whole world upside down, that old, tired pagan world, a world our modern, so-called neo-pagans seem to forget; and they forget too how refreshing was the Christian message when it began to make its way across that dying time of history. We moderns forget how joyfully much of the known world became Christians when they heard this message -- that nothing now, in the light of the Resurrection of Christ, is to stay the same, but everything now begins to take on the marvelous hue of eternal life. "I'm going out to fish," Peter announced to the other disciples when they were all at a loss as to what they should do now that Jesus had died. "I'm going out to fish," Peter said. I am just going to carry on, I suppose, like normal, like before this Jesus ever broke into our lives and filled us with such hope. What else can I do? Then the voice from the shore: "Come and eat your meal." "It is the Lord." It is the Mass, the Eucharist, to remind us that all is now new. Yes, it is the Lord, Christ come back from the dead never to die again. And nothing, nothing was ever the same for Peter the fisherman and the other disciples ever again. And nothing, nothing, my dear brothers and sisters, is the same for us. Time moves on. Because He really did rise from the dead, and thank God, nothing will ever be the same again. Because it has all been made eternally new. May God bless you always. Happy Easter.

Ya que el Domingo de Pascua pasó, ¿que vamos a hacer? ¿Nos desentendemos de los hechos que hemos vivido, la crucifixión y resurrección de nuestro Señor? Y hacemos como Pedro en el pasaje del evangelio de este domingo, y ¿nos vamos a pescar? Nos volvemos a nuestra rutina diaria, y semanal. Después del sufrimiento de la cuaresma y la alegría de la pascua, nos regresamos a lo diario y monótono. Es el Señor nos dice San Juan, por que la historia no termino en la cruz. Es el Señor que esta vivo y triunfa, "Venid y comed vuestra comida." El nos dice, ya que la pascua a sucedido de verdad, y el mundo no es el mismo ya. Cristo ha resucitado de entre los muertos, y sus discípulos, que lo conocieron antes y después de estos momentos importantísimos de la pascua, van esparciendo por todo el imperio romano esta buena noticia y así, van poniendo el mundo patas arriba. Nosotros en nuestro mundo moderno, hemos olvidado lo alegre que se pusieron todos aquellos que escucharon y acogieron "la buena noticia," Que nada es lo mismo a la luz de la resurrección, pero que todo es nuevo, es una nueva creación. Pedro dijo a los otros discípulos, "Voy a Pescar," en ese momento de luto y perdida, como que es lo que deberían de hacer ahora que Cristo, su amigo intimo, había muerto. "Voy a pescar." Como si dijera, voy a seguir mi vida como antes, antes de que Jesús apareciera en sus vidas y los llenara de esperanza, ¿Qué otra cosa puedo hacer? Se preguntaría Pedro. Entonces use escucho una voz desde la orilla, "Venid a almorzar" "Es el Señor" Es la Santa Misa, la Eucaristía, que nos hace recordar cada semana que todo es nuevo. Si, es el Señor que regresa de la muerte para nunca mas morir. Y para Pedro y los demás discípulos, nunca nada volvió a ser lo mismo de antes. Ni para nosotros, mis hermanos, nada será lo mismo de antes. El tiempo pasa, y Cristo ha resucitado de entre los muertos, y gracias a nuestro Padre eterno, nada será lo mismo de antes, por que todo se ha hecho nuevo.

Que Dios me los bendiga a todos. Feliz Pascua
